The Armed Forces Covenant

An Enduring Covenant Between

The People of the United Kingdom
Her Majesty's Government

– and –

All those who serve or have served in the Armed Forces of the Crown
And their Families

The first duty of Government is the defence of the realm. Our Armed Forces fulfil that responsibility on behalf of the Government, sacrificing some civilian freedoms, facing danger and, sometimes, suffering serious injury or death as a result of their duty. Families also play a vital role in supporting the operational effectiveness of our Armed Forces. In return, the whole nation has a moral obligation to the members of the Naval Service, the Army and the Royal Air Force, together with their families. They deserve our respect and support.

Those who serve in the Armed Forces, whether Regular or Reserve, those who have served in the past, and their families, should face no disadvantage compared to other citizens in the provision of public and commercial services. Special consideration is appropriate in some cases, especially for those who have given most such as the injured and the bereaved.

This obligation involves the whole of society: it includes voluntary and charitable bodies, private organisations, and the actions of individuals in supporting the Armed Forces. Recognising those who have performed military duty unites the country and demonstrates the value of their contribution. This has no greater expression than in upholding this Covenant.

Section 1: Principles of the Armed Forces Covenant

1.1 We, Balltec, will endeavour in our business dealings to uphold the key principles of the Armed Forces Covenant, which are:

- no member of the Armed Forces Community should face disadvantage in the provision of public and commercial services compared to any other citizen
- In some circumstances special treatment may be appropriate especially for the injured or bereaved.

Section 2: Demonstrating our Commitment

2.1 We recognise the value serving personnel, reservists, veterans and military families bring to our business and to our country. We will seek to uphold the principles of the Armed Forces Covenant, by:

• Promoting the Armed Forces:

Promoting our work, activities and events through our own digital and social media channels as well as working with the press.

We will promote the covenant pledges on a dedicated section on our website.

Promoting that we are an Armed Forces friendly organisation, to our staff, contractors, customers, suppliers and wider public through our internal and external communications and where possible find ways of conducting our work by using the skills of veterans.

• Veterans:

We will work with the Career Transition Partnership (CTP), as well as advertising widely in the Armed Forces community, to ensure suitable employment opportunities are made available to veterans.

Welcoming Applications from and guaranteeing interviews with, veterans who meet the criteria in the job specification.

Recognising military skills and qualifications in our recruitment and selection process.

• Service Spouses & Partners:

Supporting the employment of Service spouses and partners within the company by welcoming applications from spouses/partners who meet the criteria in the job specifications.

Partnering with and advertising vacancies on Forces Families Jobs and Recruit for Spouses, as well as advertising widely within the Armed Forces community.

Endeavouring to offer a degree of flexibility in granting leave for services spouses and partners before, during and after a partner's deployment.

- Reserves:

Continue to support our employees who are already members of the Reserve Force.

Supporting any mobilisations and deployment.

- National Events:

Supporting Armed Forces Day, Reserves Day, the Poppy Appeal Day and Remembrance activities.

2.2 We will publicise these commitments through our literature and/or on our website, setting out how we will seek to honour them and inviting feedback from the Service community and our customers on how we are doing.
